THIRTY-NINTH ANNUAL REPORT
OF THE
BOARD OF DIRECTORS
OF THE
MERCANTILE LIBRARY COMPANY OF PHILADELPHIA,
FOR THE YEAR ENDING DECEMBER 31, 1861.

THE past year, so eventful in the history of our country, and so disruptive of all business and social relations, has had but little effect upon this Institution; and happily, the hold we have acquired upon the people of Philadelphia, has preserved our finances in a comparatively flourishing state. In this period of general gloom and disaster, we can chronicle a gratifying condition of our Library; and what is of hardly less importance, is the fact we are now able to state, that all the extensions and improvements made during the progressive year of 1860, expensive and extraordinary as they were, have been fully sustained throughout 1861, without embarrassing the Treasury, or leaving us in debt, notwithstanding the material reduction in the rents, and the diminution of sales of stock. This proves that the enterprises undertaken by the Board were healthy and well-timed, and that under ordinary circumstances, the people will always sustain improvements of a public character.

Our rooms have been unusually frequented by shareholders and subscribers, who use all the facilities to the utmost extent. The news room and chess tables have proved greatly successful, and have enhanced the attractions of the Institution very materially. With the outbreak of the Rebellion our supplies of Southern papers of course ceased. We had been receiving an excellent selection of them regularly, and they were much sought for by business men. In other respects the supply of papers has not diminished.

In consequence of the peculiar state of the times, the book publishing business has been almost stagnant, so that we have not been able to furnish as large a variety of fresh literature as usual. Whatever has been issued in Europe or America, worthy of patronage, or accessible to us in any way, we have obtained. From our London agency we continue to receive valuable supplies of interesting works of every description, and in this respect our Library is at least as well furnished as any in the city.

The demand for more space for books on the main floor of the Library, has led to the construction of a number of cases, so placed as to commence the system of alcoves, in vogue in most large institutions of this kind, and long since in contemplation by the Board. The change will be gradual as the increasing store of books renders it necessary.

Many of the members of the Athenæum and of this Company, having agitated a proposition to unite the two, in order thereby to elevate the position, increase the resources, and concentrate the public patronage more generally upon a single Association, a communication was received from the Managers of the Athenæum, which resulted in a proposition to give each shareholder of that Institution three shares in the proposed new Company, or a life-membership. The matter is to be acted upon by the shareholders of the Athenæum, at a meeting to be held in the early part of February.*

*In the early part of the last year, a communication was received from a committee of the Athenæum, in relation to a union of the two Institutions. The Directors of this Company appointed a committee to meet them, and after several interviews, the above proposition was agreed to, as embodying what seemed to be an equitable basis of union.

The reasons for proposing to give to the members of the Athenæum three shares of stock in the new Institution, for each one of theirs, were—1st, because the par value of the Athenæum shares is $25, and ours only $10—2d, they have only 350 or 400 members, while we have about 2200; and the property of the two Institutions consists of two buildings, each of about the same value.

The number of volumes in the Athenæum is about	-	-	-	14,000
“ “ “ “ “ Mercantile Library is about	-	-	-	23,000

During the year the Board has been compelled by the large accession of visitors, and the increased demands upon the Library, to insist upon the strict enforcement of the By-Laws and Rules. Without discipline, it is impossible to afford to twenty-seven hundred stockholders and subscribers, a fair and equal chance to obtain all the new and valuable books. Those who have been accustomed to exceed their privileges, are now compelled to observe regulations which benefit the mass in preference to any favored few. By this policy we have added to our treasury over four hundred dollars for fines, and have saved money which would otherwise have necessarily been expended for duplicate books to satisfy a fictitious demand.

The Board have long known that many valuable books have been stolen from the Library, and they, together with the Librarians, have been keeping a watchful eye upon the property. During the early part of the year, a bookseller purchased of a person whom he had no reason to suspect, quite a number of law and other valuable works belonging to the Institution, but on looking more closely, he discovered our stamp and immediately made the fact known to us. A warrant was issued, and the party arrested, with a number of our books under his arm. The matter was pushed to a trial, and the offender punished according to law. Immediately the Board attempted to devise some means by which they could stop these depredations, and a plan was adopted of stamping each book upon the cover, so that it could not be erased—thus rendering the work comparatively worthless, either in a private library or for sale, unless with our selling stamp upon it. The measure was considered so important, that a contract was at once entered into at a very low price, to stamp every volume in the Library, as well as those hereafter to be added. This took a great deal of time and labor, but your Board are satisfied that it will repay the cost and trouble.

Several persons have been detected during the past year in taking books from the Library without being registered; and we recommend to the incoming Board to repress this bad practice, which so nearly borders on larceny, by a strict enforcement of the Rules of the Company, by forfeiting the share of the offender, and prohibiting his entrance into the Library Building.

The Board have had under consideration a plan for establishing agencies in adjacent towns, such as West Chester, Burlington, &c., to enable their residents, at an advanced rate of subscription, to use the books of the Library without being compelled to come hither in person for them. Some correspondence has been entered into on the subject, with various parties, but thus far without any definite or satisfactory result. This project may be capable of a successful development, which would add largely to the revenues of the Library.

The condition of public affairs is such as to render us somewhat careful about attempting any enterprise of an expensive nature, especially as a part of the mortgage upon our Building has recently been called in; we were, however, fortunate enough to procure for it a new owner. To guard against unexpected events of this kind, in the future, the Board have deemed it prudent to establish a sinking fund, and a commencement has been made by investing five hundred dollars in the U. S. loan, at $7\frac{3}{10}$ interest.

We shall still watch carefully the interests of the Association, and recommend a continuance of this policy to our successors.

T. MORRIS PEROT, President.

LIBRARIAN'S REPORT.

To the Directors of the Mercantile Library Company of Philadelphia :

GENTLEMEN :—I beg leave to submit the following report on the operations of the department of the Library, under my superintendence for the year just elosed.

The increase in the number of members of the Company has been fifty-one (51), and one hundred and eighty-eight (188) new subscribers have been admitted to the use of the Library and Reading Room, as shown in the following table :

It will be seen by the above, that the shares of twenty-three members have been declared forfeited for non-payment of the annual taxes, agreeably to the provisions of the By-Laws.

Of the whole number of persons entitled in their own names to the use of the Library, two hundred and seventy (270) are ladies, viz: one hundred and ninety-five (195) Shareholders, and seventy-five (75) Subscribers.

The number of shares transferred during the year, is one hundred and fifty-eight (158).

The books added to the Library during the year, number eleven hundred and eighty-five (1185) volumes.

The additions made during the last year may be classified as follows:

Prose Fiction,	-	-	-	-	-	252	"

Total,						1185	"

The cost of the books purchased, is fourteen hundred and eighty-nine dollars ($1489.00), and the average per volume is $1.49.

The amount paid for books, as will appear by the Treasurer's report, is in excess of the above sum by five hundred and seventy-two dollars ($572.42), which amount has been paid for books bought, but not paid for, during the previous year.

The whole number of volumes in the Library at the present time, is twenty-two thousand seven hundred (22,700).

The donations to the Library embrace one hundred (100) bound volumes, and sixty-five (65) pamphlets. Among the more valuable of these, is a continuation of the "American State Papers, comprising Legislative and Executive Documents of the U. S. Congress from 1789 to 1859," in seventeen folio volumes. These were presented by the Department of the Interior, through Hon. E. JOY MORRIS. Mr. F. LEYPOLDT, of this city, has presented to the Library a valuable collection of modern French and German books, numbering thirty-four volumes. Particular mention should be made, in this connection, of a very fine copy of "Hondy's Historia Mundi, or Mercator's Atlas; containing his Cosmographicall description of the Fabricke and Figure of the World, with new Mappes and Tables," printed at London, in 1635, in folio, for which we are indebted to DAVID M. SWARR, Esq., of this city. A list of the books presented to the Library during the year, is appended to this report.

There have been loaned from the Library for home perusal, seventy-one thousand five hundred (71,500) volumes—an average of twenty-seven volumes for each person entitled to use the Library. The falling off in this item, as compared with the number loaned the previous year, is to be attributed to the following causes:

1. The exciting events of the past few months, which have diverted men's thoughts from books and study, to newspaper reading.
2. The breaking up of business, and consequent removal of members from the city.
3. The adoption of the new Library rules, which have operated to exclude unauthorized persons from the use of the books, and to retain in the Library books not actually in use.

As directed by the Board in the early part of the year, all the books in the Library have been stamped on the covers, in an embossing press, in such a manner as it was thought would prevent their being stolen. The cost of this was ninety-seven dollars ($97.81).

The largely increased use of the books, of late, has rendered it necessary to expend a much greater sum in binding. The number of volumes bound the last year, is one thousand three hundred and two (1,302), at a cost of over six hundred and thirty-seven dollars ($637.51), or an average of forty-nine (49) cents per volume.

In obedience to the instructions of the Board, all the books are now bound in half-Turkey morocco, and in a uniform style.

JOHN EDMANDS, Librarian.
